

Recently on 89.7 WUWM

Bringing the Campus to Community

NEWS: Monday February 2, 2004

UWM Student Association member, Mary Ryan, about its "Hype the Vote" drive.

NEWS: Tuesday February 3, 2004

Marc Levine, Director UWM Center for Economic Development, commenting on a report calling for the need to establish a "creative class" in Milwaukee.

AT TEN: Tuesday February 3, 2004

UWM Physics Professor Greg Allen discusses his work in listening for gravitational waves in the outer reaches of our universe.

NEWS: Thursday February 5, 2004

Interim Chancellor Bob Greenstreet responds to news of U-W System President Katharine Lyall's retirement.

NEWS: Friday February 6, 2004

Associate Political Science Professor Kathleen Dolan discusses how the Presidential Primary will affect voter turnout for the Milwaukee Mayoral race.

NEWS: Monday February 9, 2004

WUWM's Marge Pitrof was a panelist at UWM Student's Society of Professional Journalists forum on political coverage by the media.

AT TEN: Tuesday February 10, 2004

There is a chance that the Great Lakes could be the victim of terrorism through the introduction of a chemical or other agent. UW-Milwaukee researcher Paul Roebber has been looking into the potential of such a disaster.

NEWS: Friday February 13, 2004

The National Health Policy Council forum at UWM. The event featured panelists including Democratic presidential hopefuls Howard Dean and Dennis Kucinich.

NEWS: Monday February 16, 2004

UWM's Kathryn Olson with analysis of televised debate featuring Democratic candidates for president.

NEWS: Monday February 16, 2004

Coverage of the National Health Policy Council forum at UWM.

NEWS: Tuesday February 17, 2004

UWM School of Nursing Professor Sandra Underwood talking about results of cancer study in Wisconsin.

NEWS: Wednesday February 18, 2004

Kathy Dolan, UWM Political Science, analysis of national and local election results.

AT TEN: Wednesday February 18, 2004

A review of the Milwaukee mayoral race. Guest host Jane Hampden talks with the successful candidates, plus analysis from Kurt Chandler of Milwaukee Magazine and Mordecai Lee, associate Professor at UW-Milwaukee.

AT TEN: Friday February 20, 2004

A discussion of how race issues in Oakland, California are similar to those in Milwaukee. Robert Self, assistant Professor of History at UW-Milwaukee has written, American Babylon: Race and the Struggle for Postwar Oakland

NEWS: Tuesday February 24, 2004

Interim Dean Robert Greenstreet commented on the 1st annual UWM "State of the Students" address.

AT TEN: Thursday March 18, 2004

Athletes receive lots of coaching and training. Increasingly athletes are using sports psychologists to help them prepare for competition. Dr. Barbara Meyer, associate Professor at UW-Milwaukee, has helped Olympians and currently works with the UWM women's basketball team.

NEWS: Tuesday March 30, 2004

UWM Political Science Associate Professor Kathy Dolan commented on President Bush's appearance in Appleton, WI.

For more information:

Betsy Rourke
270-1110
betsy@uwm.edu

